COME HOME TO FAMILY

A Monthly Publication of the Tabernacle Missionary Baptist Church Volume 8, Issue 5

We Can Make a Difference!

When we look around in the world, we find so much darkness. This darkness is found nearly in every strata of society. It is as if many of our families, our communities and institutions are suffering from a spiritual and moral blackout. The news is peppered with headlines concerning the deeds of darkness. We need not list these deeds for they are all too obvious and bothersome to most of us.

When people walk in darkness, they must depend on feelings to guide them. They grope their way through life. When people exist in the dark they lose all sense of what is most valuable and beautiful in life. It is impossible to appreciate not only the brilliance of the colors of life, but also to distinguish one color from another. Everything looks the same. In the dark, right seems wrong and wrong seems right. In the dark, love can be mistaken for lust and lust can be mistaken for love. In the dark, the fake can appear real and the real can appear fake. Maybe this is why so much of what we observe around us just does not make sense.

Certainly, something ought

Evangelism Article

"But thanks be to God, who always leads us as captives in Christ's triumphal procession and uses us to spread the aroma of the knowledge of Him everywhere. For we are to God the pleasing aroma of Christ among those who are being saved and those who are perishing. To the one we are an aroma that brings death; to the other, an aroma that brings life. And who is equal to such a task? Unlike so many, we do not peddle the word of God for profit. On the contrary, in Christ we speak before God with sincerity, as those sent from God." (2 Corinthians 2:14-17)

No one likes to smell a bad odor. We all like sweet smelling things. We like the smell of a fresh cut bouquet of flowers. We use perfume and cologne to keep from being offensive.

The woman who wet Jesus' feet with her tears and wiped them with her hair poured perfume on His feet. Jesus says that because of her great love for Him she has performed this great act of worship for Him. And in fact, Christ has also forgiven us our many sins. Because of this we also have a great love for Him, and hopefully we too want to express our love for Him. We can't fill the house with a physical aroma like this woman did. Often the spiritual state of a person or a group of people in Scripture is referred to with reference to the sense of smell. We can express our love for Christ by offering up a spiritual sweet aroma to Christ. In fact, our entire lives can be a sweet aroma to God.

The first way we can be a sweet aroma to God is repentance and cleansing from sin. Ungodliness is a stench in the nostrils of God. Genesis 19:13 says "For we will destroy the city completely. The stench of the place has reached the LORD, and He has sent us to destroy it." Here the angel is speaking to Lot about the sin of Sodom.

Writer's Ministry - Deacon's Lesson

Lesson 9: Sustain Worship

Scripture: Psalms 95-96

Goal: To embrace and fulfill our covenant relationship with God and one another.

Objective: To understand the meaning and significance of sustaining the church's worship.

Church Covenant Segment: To understand the meaning and significance of sustaining the church's worship.

Introduction:

"O come, let us worship and bow down; let us kneel before the Lord our maker. For He is our God; and we are the people of His pasture, and the sheep of His hand." (Psalm 95:6-7) "The church covenant calls us to sustain the church's worship, ordinances, and doctrine." According to William C. Turner, the vitality and vibrancy of church life requires committed Christians who are deeply devoted to God. Worship is like the breath of the body entering and going forth. It keeps the church alive. True worship is in Spirit and in truth, which is to say that it is not the form of worship that matters but the substance. Without question, it is the heartbeat of the church. How do we sustain true worship? We sustain true worship as we join with all creation, the host of heaven, and the saints who have preceded us in giving glory to God.

Lesson Summary:

What a challenge this lesson issues to us as a church family! Does our praise and worship represent our joy, knowledge and relationship for everything that God has done and continues to do? Each Sunday provides an opportunity to join with other believers in worshipping God and giving Him the glory for all that He has done! The invitation to worship invites us to leave whatever else preoccupies our minds and focus our praise in the presence of the Lord. Worship should be included in the total worldview of each individual Christian. It is a significant part of a believer's life.

True worship is in Spirit and truth and guided by the doctrine of Christ. In order for our worship to sustain life all members must be present in body and in spirit. We must present ourselves before our Holy God so His beauty can be reflected in us. We depend on the Holy Spirit for unity, communion, and fellowship. We join each other by releasing self with the help of the Holy Spirit in order for us to glorify God and be built up in faith.

Worship is the believer's response of all that he is--mind, emotions, will, and body--to all that God is and says and does. When we think of our covenant as a solemn oath and agreement between God and each other, it makes us more aware of the interdependence that God has woven into the Body of Christ. God's design for the church is one in which we have a responsibility to grow individually and to help each other grow corporately. This lesson clearly articulates that:

- Worship is given to enlighten and invigorate the church.
- All we do as God's people is to be done with an attitude of worship.
- Worship entails joining with others by a release of the self through the Spirit.

"In a profound sense, all we do as God's people is to be done with an attitude of worship. Discipline and doctrine are to be dispensed with an attitude of worship. The order of worship may change, but Bible study, choir rehearsal, even committee meetings and conferences should be done in an atmosphere of worship, for we are not dealing merely with formal principles and agenda items but with how our personal lives and our common life are to reflect and radiate the beauty of the Lord our God."

Going Deeper (Group Discussion/Personal Reflection)

1. Describe the various forms of worship.
2. What principles distinguish worship as glorifying God from worship as performance?
3. In what ways is a church's vitality and ministry influenced by the vitality of its worship?
4. What are some common differences between our purposes in worship and God's priorities?

to be done. Somebody has to take the responsibility to dissipate the darkness. But who will take on this great task, better yet, who is equipped to do so. According to the scripture we don't have to look far to find those who are the dispellers of darkness. If we claim to be followers of Jesus Christ, we are told by the One who is the Light of the World, that we are the light of the world.

Jesus says to His disciples, "you are the light of the world..." Jesus does not say that the disciples are to become light, they are light. What Jesus said to the disciples who followed Him in the first century, He says to us today. You and I are the dispellers of darkness. You and I are the light of the world. Since this is true and since there are so many of us who profess the name of Jesus, why is there so much darkness?

Could it be that we as disciples, the church, have abdicated our hilltop place of preeminence for valley place of coexistence? Have we as believers settled for the darkness of acquiescence? If the answer to these questions are in the affirmative, then we have failed to be "a city set on a hill that cannot be hidden." We have become the antithesis of this statement. The word "hidden" is a translation of the Greek word "krupto." The root meaning of "krupto" is to cover, to hide, to keep secret, to be invisible. Are our communities dark because we as Christians have become invisible?

Jesus also teaches that "nor do people light a lamp and put it under a basket, but on a stand, and it gives light to all in the house." In order for the darkness of our communities to disappear we must remove our relationship with Jesus Christ from under the baskets of varied excuses that hide the light. You and I must take the light that Jesus has made us and put it on a pedestal. It is interesting to note that the light shines not for the benefit of itself but for the benefit of "all in the house." Jesus has not saved us merely for our benefit but that we might be of benefit to others. The uncovering of your light can provide people with what they need to make right choices. The uncovering of your light can enable people to see what is really beautiful in life. Regardless of age or station all can profit from your light.

Jesus declares that we should "let our light shine before others that they may see our good works and glorify our Father which is in heaven." It is the testimony of our relationship with Jesus that allows people to view our deeds properly. They see the transcendent motivation and ultimate intention of our efforts. The works we do are more than philanthropy or altruism. The works we do are now ministry because people come to know that our motivation is Christ. It is the love of Christ that has saved us that cause us to reach out and serve others. These works don't point to us, they point past us, they point to God our heavenly Father. The works we do remind people that God still cares for them. They begin to give God the glory.

We must not curse the darkness; we must be the light that eliminates the darkness. Eugene Petersen paraphrases this teaching in this manner:

"Here's another way to put it: You're here to be light, bringing out the God-colors in the world. God is not a secret to be kept. We're going public with this, as public as a city on a hill. If I make you light-bearers, you don't think I'm going to hide you under a bucket, do you? I'm putting you on a light stand. Now that I've put you there on a hilltop, on a light stand—shine! Keep open house; be generous with your lives. By opening up to others, you'll prompt people to open up with God, this generous Father in heaven."
Matthew 5:14-16 (The Message)

Evangelism Article

In the passage cited, Paul considers himself as a slave (cf. Rom 1:1) being led triumphantly in the Messiah's conquered host. After a victorious military campaign it was customary for Roman emperors to stage a "triumph," during which they paraded captives through the streets of Rome.

The same Savior is preached to all by the messengers of the Gospel. To some it is fatal; to others it is life giving. Paul's testimony is that he does not, like many false teachers, corrupt the word of God. Follow God's example, therefore, as dearly loved children and walk in the way of love, just as Christ loved us and gave Himself up for us as a fragrant offering and sacrifice to God. (Ephesians 5:2)

We must have a relationship with God by confessing our sins and accepting Jesus Christ as our personal Savior. Then wherever we go He uses us to tell others about the Lord and to spread the Good News like a sweet aroma. Our lives are a sweet fragrance presented by Christ to God. We don't have to pour out the whole bottle of sweet aroma at one time. We can squirt some here and there as we go through life. A "God bless you." A "Have a good day." A "Praise the Lord." A "God be with you." A friendly smile. They can all be a sweet aroma right where you are.
